

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Yule By the Ingle.
Like hopes faint-faltering from the lip,
The last leaves drop from off the brier,
Where now the shriveled, ashen lip
Shows once the red rose lip its fire;
But by my genial ingle glow
Her cheek—the summer's fairest rose!

The garden copse is left of song;
No meadow choir salutes the sun;
The night will glow the white day long,
Pale Silence keeps its orison;
But where my ingle glows its cheer
Her voice—sweet autumn's own—I hear!

The branches writhe against a vault
With luted vapors streamers strewn,
Where outcast winds make mad assault,
Blurring the vespers of the moon;
But by my ingle, life's felicity
I see spring's hyacinthine skies!

So all the year meets at the Yule,
Transmuted by Love's wonder art;
Its glass, as doth a magic pool,
Make time and bloom seem one at heart;
Yule by my ingle means for me
The crown of life's felicity.

PATRIOTIC SOCIETIES

The New President.

Mrs. William H. McKenny, of Petersburg, Va., the newly-elected president of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, assumes her office with an enviable record as a Confederate worker and a woman of unusual executive ability.

Mrs. McKenny was nominated last year for the first vice-presidency of the division, but requested that Mrs. Mahone be appointed in her place. She has served on the credential and other committees. Her election was received with hearty expressions of pleasure by the entire convention.

Monthly Meeting.

The Virginia Society of Colonial Dames will hold their regular monthly meeting in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society Tuesday, November 14th, at 4 P. M.

Oyster Supper.

The ladies of the Anna Stonewall Jackson Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, at Abingdon, Va., gave a bird and oyster supper Friday night for the benefit of the Confederate monument to be erected at that place. The gentlemen of the town volunteered to shoot the birds, and a nice sum was realized.

Interesting Mention.

Virginia women will read with interest the following mention from Town and Country that recently opened a patriotic department.

The ground for the Jefferson Davis monument, located on Monument Avenue, at the intersection of Franklin and Cedar Streets, Richmond, Va., was broken last Tuesday afternoon, November 7th, by Mrs. S. T. McCullough, of Staunton, Va., president of the Jefferson Davis Memorial Association, and member of the Building Committee. The members of this committee present were Mrs. Norman Randolph, Mrs. Edgar D. Taylor and Mrs. B. A. Blenner; Mr. Joseph Bryan, chairman of the committee; Mr. J. Taylor Elliott, Judge George Christian and Mr. Edgar D. Taylor, all of Richmond. The ceremony was altogether informal and simple in its nature, in view of the grand and memorial that will be one of the chief features of the Jamestown Exposition year, 1907, when representatives from every Southern State will be present.

The designs for the monument are the work of two young men of Richmond—Mr. William Noland and Mr. Henry M. Baskerville. Mr. E. V. Valentine, the Virginia sculptor has the figure work in charge.

The pick-axe and spade used by Mrs. McCullough had a handsomely inscribed silver plate, bearing the name of the association president, the occasion of use, and the date. After the ceremony both were placed in the Confederate Museum for preservation. The museum, which has a most interesting history and is now owned by a memorial association of women, was the building occupied by Mr. Davis and his family during the Civil War.

Much interest attended the State meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, October 25th and 26th, in Roanoke, Va. The election of officers resulted in the appointment of Mrs. S. W. Amis, of Roanoke, as State regent; Mrs. John D. Horsfield, of Lynchburg, vice-regent; Mrs. James R. Schick, of Roanoke, State secretary, and Mrs. W. W. Harper, of Orange, State treasurer. Mrs. Eleanor Washington Howard, of Alexandria, Va., who is nearly related to the family of the first President of the United States, and who was born in Mount Vernon, made vice-president.

She is representative in the best sense of the word.

Tyler—Redd.

The wedding of Miss Sally Burnley Redd, of Ashland, Va., to Mr. William Elliott Tyler, of Caroline county, was celebrated Wednesday, November 8th, at Ashland, in the home of Mrs. Hill Carter, the bride's aunt.

The parlor was beautifully decorated with pink chrysanthemums and candelabra, the color scheme for the dining room being evolved in yellow chrysanthemums. Mr. John Tyler, the groom's brother, was best man, and Mrs. Henry Ross Carter attended the bride as matron of honor.

Miss Redd came in with her father, Mr. Carey Redd, who gave her away. She wore a traveling costume of dark blue chiffon cloth, a blue hat, and carried a cascade bouquet of bride roses. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. H. Hepburn, rector of the Episcopal Church. Afterward a beautiful luncheon was served.

The groom is a brother of former Governor J. Hoge Tyler. Many friends gathered to offer their congratulations and good wishes.

An Outside View.

Richmond and Virginia society is agitated and excited by the coming of "Town and Country" this week, as may be seen from the following paragraphs, which say:

Mrs. Preston-Preston, a clever miniaturist, of New York, has been spending some time in Richmond, and numbers of young maids and matrons have had themselves idealized on ivory and canvas. The parlors at the Jefferson Hotel, in Richmond, occupied by Mrs. Preston, are visited every day, and are quite the most attractive rendezvous to be found during afternoon hours, from 2 to 5 o'clock.

Two weddings to take place in late November are being already much discussed by friends of the people concerned. Miss Mary Hayes, daughter of Mr. A. G. Mathison, will be married to Mr. A. G. Mathison, on the same day that Miss Frances McGuire, the third daughter of the late distinguished Dr. Hunter Holmes McGuire, of Richmond, was wedded to Mr. John Guy Davis, of Norfolk, Virginia. Both brides belong to prominent families, and are attractive, bright, popular young women. Mr.

YET, when I muse on what life is, I seem Rather to patience prompted, than that proud
Prospect of hope which France proclaims so loud—
France, famed in all great arts, in none supreme;

See this vale, this earth, whereon we dream,
Is on all sides o'ershadowed by the high
Unconquered Mountains of Necessity,
Sparing us narrower margin than we deem.

Nor will that day dawn at a human nod,
When, bursting through the network superposed
By selfish occupation—plot and plan.

Lust, avarice, envy—liberated man,
All difference with his fellow-mortals closed,
Shall be left standing face to face with God.

This series began in The Times-Dispatch Sunday, Oct. 11, 1902. One is published each day.

Mathison was a Swede by nativity, but has quite identified himself with the club and social life of Richmond and also of Trenton, New Jersey, where the young people will have their future home. Mr. Davis is the nephew of an eminent Virginia lawyer, for whom he is named and in whose footsteps he seems likely to follow. Miss Hayes is to be married at home, with Mrs. Joseph Noel to be her matron of honor. Miss McGuire's nuptials are to be celebrated in St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The Grafton-Middlesex match is creating great excitement among Virginia sportsmen and sportswomen, especially in the neighborhood of Upperville, where the meets are being held and where many house parties are being given. Miss Terry Dulaney, of "Grafton Hall," has distinguished herself by her brilliant riding work by Mrs. Carrie Watson, of Dry Park, and an offering was taken for the Margaret Home for Missionaries' Children. This was followed by a most instructive address by Miss Armstrong, of Baltimore. At night a mass-meeting was held, presided over by Rev. R. A. Williams, pastor of the church. An able address on the subject of "Home Missions" was delivered by Rev. Dr. A. J. Barton, of Little Rock, Ark. An offering was taken for the Tichenor Memorial, and the closing address was delivered by Rev. Dr. T. S. Dunaway, of this city. This closed the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union, which has been in session here since Thursday night.

Wedding Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Toler have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. David Owen Cogbill, the marriage to take place on the evening of November 16th, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Church of the Covenant.

Personal Mention.

Mr. Ernest C. Mead and Mr. Irvin Williams, of Richmond, will leave on Monday for an extended hunting trip to different parts in Virginia. They will take with them the celebrated Irish setters, "Filt" and "Dan." Although birds are not very plentiful this year, the huntsmen expect to bag considerable game.

Dr. Nathan W. Nelson, son of the late N. W. Nelson, of this city, has located at No. 409 West Grace Street for the practice of medicine and surgery. Dr. Nelson is a graduate of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York city, where he spent several years in hospital work.

Miss Hattie Floyd Fuller is visiting friends in Lynchburg, Va. For the present the Rosemary Library is located at No. 41 North Eighth Street, in a temporary home kindly placed at their disposal by the Richmond School Board. The fine work of the library and its usefulness as a factor for good, so well-known in this community, must always commend it to the support and interest of the Richmond reading public.

Mr. George W. Brown, Mrs. Tom M. Hundley and Misses Alice and Emma Netherland left yesterday for Asheville, N. C., to spend a week.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Park Place M. E. Church will hold their annual Christmas sale the first week in December.

Mrs. Kent, Miss Kent and Miss Cloyd, of Wytheville, will spend the early winter in Illinois. It is their present plan to go South after Christmas.

Mrs. Durant Wilder, of No. 7 North Third Street, expects to spend the latter part of December at her old home in Abbeville, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gray, of "Northfield," Cumberland county, left for home on Saturday last.

Mrs. S. T. McCullough, of Staunton, Va., who spent a part of last week with Mrs. Edgar D. Taylor, returned to Staunton on Saturday.

Mrs. W. J. Johnson is spending the week delightfully with a party of friends in New York city.

Miss Emily Waddell is visiting relatives at Walkerton, Va., for the month of November.

Miss Mary Johnston, who has been at Gaymont, near Staunton, since leaving Warm Springs, has returned to the city.

Mrs. John L. Dubank is expected in Richmond within the next week. She has been at Atlantic City since closing Warm Springs on November 1st.

Mrs. Peyton Wise has returned from New York city.

Medical Society Meets.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., November 12.—The Piedmont Medical Society met last night at the residence of Dr. John Stagle Davis, at the University of Virginia. Arrangements for the next meeting of the State Medical Association in Charlottesville were discussed, and the date fixed for the second Tuesday in next October.

The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Dr. Charles S. Venable, Jr., president; Dr. J. A. B. Sinclair, vice-president; Dr. Halstead S. Hedgcock, secretary and treasurer.

PARAGRAPHS FROM FREDERICKSBURG

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

FREDERICKSBURG, Va., Nov. 12.—The Woman's Missionary Union met this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Bible lesson, subject "Ezra," was read and explained by Miss A. G. Richter, of Hampton. Then a paper was read on mission work by Mrs. Carrie Watson, of Dry Park, and an offering was taken for the Margaret Home for Missionaries' Children. This was followed by a most instructive address by Miss Armstrong, of Baltimore. At night a mass-meeting was held, presided over by Rev. R. A. Williams, pastor of the church. An able address on the subject of "Home Missions" was delivered by Rev. Dr. A. J. Barton, of Little Rock, Ark. An offering was taken for the Tichenor Memorial, and the closing address was delivered by Rev. Dr. T. S. Dunaway, of this city. This closed the meeting of the Woman's Missionary Union, which has been in session here since Thursday night.

Mrs. Charles L. Ruffin, who will shortly join her husband in their new home near Bristol, Va., gave a farewell reception a few evenings ago to her friends here.

Miss Mary Lindsay, of this city, has gone to Richmond to study to be a trained nurse.

At a protracted meeting at Zion Baptist Church, in Caroline county, which closed a few nights ago, there were sixty-five professions and forty-five additions to the church. Rev. Dr. R. B. Garrett, of Portsmouth, led the preaching.

VETERAN TELEGRAPHER DIES AT EAST RADFORD

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

EAST RADFORD, Va., November 12.—Mr. Samuel Amos Cord, a veteran telegraph operator of the Norfolk and Western, died at his home this morning of heart disease, aged sixty-seven years. He was one of the most faithful employees of the company, and had handled the key forty-three years. He was a native of Maryland, but had lived in Radford over twenty years. Burial will be made at East Radford at 3 o'clock Monday. Rev. L. W. Irwin, of the Presbyterian Church, will conduct the service.

Mr. Cord leaves a wife and seven children. His wife, Mrs. Mary Cord, of Elmwood, Tenn.; G. C. Cord, of Oakwood, Tenn.; Messrs. Arthur and Willie Cord and Miss Goldie Cord, of Radford.

MOTORMAN DIES OF HIS INJURIES

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

ROANOKE, Va., November 12.—Robert M. Sperry, the motorman who was injured in the collision between the Salem and Northwest cars during the heavy fog on the 4th, died at the hospital today. His leg was badly bruised, and blood poison set in. He had been running as motorman for fourteen years, and was in the car which killed Max McClelland nine years ago. He was a native of Franklin county, fifty-four years of age, and leaves a wife.

DEDICATE CHURCH.

Interesting Exercises Held at the Opening of New Church.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
FARMVILLE, Va., November 12.—A German Lutheran Church was dedicated here this afternoon. For the past two years many Germans have been coming to this section to live, until now there are scores of families in Prince Edward and Cumberland counties. With a site given them by Mrs. N. E. Venable, they set to work to have a church of their own, and it was completed a few days ago.

Two services were held there today, morning and afternoon. This morning the sermon was by the pastor, Rev. H. Franks, and this afternoon Rev. H. Shoff, of Meherrin, preached. Already this church has between fifty and one hundred members.

HUNTING CONTEST NEARLY ENDED

Two Days' Hunting Remains Before the Merits of Dogs Are Determined.

FARMER ARRESTS BOSTONIAN

Piedmont Valley People Condemn Treatment of Innocent Stranger.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

UPPERVILLE, Va., November 12.—The much talked of Grafton-Middlesex hunt match, which will decide the relative merits of the American and English hounds in this country is nearing an end. But two days' hunting remain, one for Grafton and one for Middlesex, before the judges will make the award of the $2,000 stake and the cup offered by Mr. John R. Townsend, of the Orange county, New York Hunt. This determination was reached to-day when Judges Charles McEachran, of Montreal, and William L. Movius, of Buffalo, decided that two weeks' hunting was not under the conditions of the match, meant six days for each hunt, and that the match would therefore end on Tuesday at 4:30 o'clock, the official time of sunset.

It was also determined that Mr. Smith, M. P. H. of Grafton, has no right to appoint a judge in place of Mr. James K. Maddux, of Warrenton, who on yesterday tendered his resignation by wire. Unless Mr. Maddux is prevailed upon to give up his hunting engagements and return the award will be made by Judges McEachran and Movius.

Boston Man Rrrested.

All of Piedmont Valley is agog over the arrest of Mr. A. Henry Higginson, of Boston, master of Middlesex, by Mr. Amos Payne, for riding across his field and his subsequent threat to arrest the entire hunt following unless Mr. Higginson paid him $100, although he acknowledged no damage had been done to his crops.

Colonel Dulaney, of Welbourne, has taken the matter up and it is thought that some concerted action will be taken by the land owners of the neighborhood, who feel that the good name of Loudoun county has been injured by the treatment of an innocent stranger has received. The matter has created intense feeling because Mr. Payne did not have any one of his neighbors arrested who were with Mr. Higginson, but brought his action against an injured guest.

The county has simply outdone itself in hospitality, and Colonel Dulaney, Mr. R. Hunter Dulaney, Mr. Carter, Mr. Henry Oxnard, Mr. Sibert, Mr. Henry Fairfax and a score of others have practically invited the hunters to stay in their homes. The Northern visitors, who are here following the hounds. The official records of the match show that up to this time, with but one day's hunting remaining for each pack, Grafton has run a fox for six hours, against thirty for Middlesex. The hounds have had a fox up and going for four hours and fifty-eight minutes. This score may or may not mean anything, for under the conditions of the match the killing of a fox is to determine the award, with the proviso that if the hounds have practically killed a fox, the match is over, and the winner shall award the match to the pack that shows the greatest ability to accomplish a "kill."

If Middlesex succeeds in "killing" tomorrow, or if Grafton secures a "brush" on Tuesday, the judges would have no difficulty in making their final report, but unless a "kill" is scored there will certainly be an immense amount of feeling exhibited.

Huntsmen Have Bad Falls.

It was learned last night that Harry W. Smith received a bad fall on Saturday's hunt, when his hunter went down hard over a rail fence and fell upon his right arm, who, fortunately, escaped with bruises.

Mr. R. Hunter Dulaney also had a fall when his horse went down at a stone wall, while hounds were running hard. Forty-two falls are known to have occurred in the ten days' hunting, and it is thought that as many more have not been reported.

The country is stiff, and on this account the horses have suffered, twelve having been placed out of commission, not to mention the number which have been scared by the high stone walls and wire-rail fences that encircle every field.

To-morrow's hunt, when Middlesex hounds will be taken out, will be in the Beaver Dam country, the meet being at Middleburg.

Mrs. Dulaney has returned to New York and Mr. Oke, of New York; Mr. Barrett, of Concord, Mass.; and Mr. Peirce, of New York, have left, but their places have been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Bird, of Boston; Mrs. Robert Perkins, of Boston, and Mr. Sturgis, of New York. The ride to hounds until the end of the match.

MINSTER'S BRIDE.

Miss Nottingham, of Eastville, to Wed Rev. Edgar Carpenter.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
EASTVILLE, Va., November 12.—Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Miss Susan Nottingham, of this place, to Rev. Edgar Carpenter, of Eastville, Va. The event will take place in Christ church here Tuesday, November 21st, at noon. Miss Nottingham is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William U. Nottingham, of this town. She is a graduate of the New England School of Music in Boston. Rev. Mr. Carpenter is the rector of Christ church here, and was previously to coming here served one of the Episcopal churches of the South for several years. The wedding will be one of unusual interest.

Hog Island precinct, in this county, for the first time in its history, gave a Republican majority in the election of November 7th. The vote was Lewis, 5; Swanson, 4. The people did not turn out. There are no negroes on the island. The voting population is about forty.

Holmes Presbyterian church will celebrate the fifth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. H. Franks, of this place, on Wednesday, November 16th. The Rev. Mr. Franks, of New Hope, will preach the sermon and special music has been prepared. The church has during his long stay in this community, has served his people very acceptably. The Presbyterian churches have grown very much during his pastorate.

The creditors in the bankruptcy proceedings against W. T. Travis, of this county, hold their meeting in this county on Tuesday, November 14th, at 10 o'clock. The estate is represented by Messrs. T. B. Robertson, L. W. W. Brockenbrough, and O. H. Nottingham, attorneys of this place. The debts foot up $46,000, assets $28,000.

WOODBERRY FOREST, 12; EPISCOPAL SCHOOL, 5

(By Associated Press.)
ORANGE, Va., November 12.—On Saturday morning Woodberry Forest defeated the Episcopal High School on the ground of the latter by the score of 12 to 5. Both schools had been splendidly coached by experienced college players and a superb contest was the result. Great interest was taken in the game as was evidenced by the large crowd. Captain Cook, Mansel Bryan and Robinson and many other University of Virginia students were on hand to see the schools fight for the championship of the State. Woodberry won by brilliant end runs, while E. H. S. made more of her game by mass plays, on the lines. Ansley, Woodberry's right half-back, was easily the star of the game. He made several long runs, one of them for a touchdown from the kick-off. The Reams Richmond boy, did the best work for E. H. S.

His Bullets Only Cut Off Hair.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., November 12.—Samuel Holliday, mine foreman at Wyman, selected a revolver in a hardware store yesterday afternoon and stepping to the pavement, crowded with shoppers, deliberately fired three shots into his head, reeling and fell groaning.

An ambulance was summoned, but a surgeon's examination showed that the bullets had only grazed the skull, cutting off the hair.

Holliday is in a padded cell at the police station, and insists that he is still himself. Financial trouble, it is thought, has deranged him.

Reams Postmaster.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
REAMS, Va., Nov. 12.—Mrs. Lona C. Halligan, the newly appointed postmaster of Reams Postoffice, took charge yesterday evening. Mrs. M. P. Ennis having resigned August last. The Reams Postoffice was moved to the railway station at Reams.

CHURCH TO CENSURE PRIVATE PUBLICATION

Reformed Presbyterians Allege Paper Prints Anti-Unionist Sentiment.

(By Associated Press.)

DUE WEST, S. C., November 12.—While the Associate Reformed Presbyterian Synod took a recess from Saturday night to Monday morning, there was considerable discussion amongst the delegates on subjects under consideration. The lively debate on proposed missions, as its title indicated, was the chief topic. The Associate Reformed Presbyterians in closer touch with the Northern (United) Presbyterians. It is, among other things, not unlikely that a mild censorship may be established over the Associate Reformed Presbyterian (publication), now under private ownership, as its alleged pronounced anti-union sentiment has been criticized recently. This is one of the subjects that will evoke lively debate to-morrow.

J. Campbell White, of Allegheny, Pa., made an address to the elders in the Due West, S. C., hall to-day, and delegates from the Reformed Presbyterian Church in closer touch with the Northern (United) Presbyterians. There are now about two hundred delegates attending the synod, representing the Church in fourteen States and Mexico.
